

We put small files (known as “cookies”) onto your computer to collect information about how you use our site.

Cookies are used to:

- measure how you use the website so it can be updated and improved based on your needs
- remember the notifications you’ve seen so that we don’t show them to you again

We do not use cookies to identify you personally.

You will normally see a message appear on the site before we store a cookie on your computer.
